

tourette's

IT'S NOT A DIRTY WORD

Some people with Tourette Syndrome might make sounds uncontrollably. Sometimes these words can be socially inappropriate. This is called "coprolalia." These outbursts are not purposeful. The involuntary movements and sounds are called tics and people with Tourette's cope with them daily.

Tourette's is a neurological disorder ... and is certainly not a dirty word.

www.tsa-usa.org | 1-888-4-TOURET

